

Dose the healthcare sector have similar expenditure levels for Research and development than IT sector in year 1?

Here are the box blots for the annual R&D expenses for Healthcare and IT sector companies reported for all companies in year1. Both distributions are right-skewed or positively skewed . That means , the mean for each is higher than the median . The mean for IT is about 13 Billon , and for healthcare is slightly above at 20 Billon . However , the median for healthcare is (7 Billon) more than the median for IT (4 Billon). The standard deviation for Healthcare is also Slightly more(30 billion For Healthcare and 23 billion for healthcare companies) that's means , the variability in R&D expenses for Healthcare companies is higher. The spread of the IT ($111,424,408,000) Billon less than the Healthcare (121,195,662,000)Billon

